The Dating and Relationship Coach for Women over 40

www.DateLikeaGrownUp.com

Bobbi guides and compassionately supports other women out of midlife dating dread to the joyful discovery of lasting, passionate love.

Bobbi Palmer is The Dating and Relationship Coach for Women over 40 and the founder and CEO of Date Like a Grownup [<http://www.datelikeagrownup.com>] – a company she built around her own grownup love story and her passion for helping women around the world through her Romance Revolution. With 25+ years as a professional corporate trainer Bobbi's natural talent for teaching has been a driving force in her mission to enrich the lives of other women.

Like the women she supports in their 40s, 50s, 60s, and beyond, Bobbi was smart, successful, and reluctantly (still) single at age 47. Fed up and determined to also succeed in this part of her life, Bobbi developed and lived the very system she now shares in her coaching programs; ultimately finding fabulous love after 40 and marrying the man of her dreams. Now joyfully married and walking her talk every day,
